Seely then fitted McFariand out with guit of clothes, and made him promise at he would stop drinking. McFariand ofessed a willingness to reform, and ely took him to the Keeley cure insti-tion in Chicago, where McFariand was yen two injections of the gold cure. Seely awoke in Ludlow Street Jail.
Seely awoke in Ludlow Street Jail this morning and said that he had enjoyed the best night's sleep in a month. And he looked it.
On the blotter of the jail the prisoner is briefly described as Samuel C. Seely, aged thirty-eight, bookkeeper; married, and held in default of $25,000 bail as a prisoner of the United States.
Seely has no money, and his friends are not in a position to help him, and as his trial is set for next week, he will probably not be a free man for even a brief period until he has paid the penalty of his crime, which may be ten years.
Seely was in a cheerful mood to-day in anticipation of a visit from his relatives. He said he hoped his wife, who has been completely prostrated since the discovery of her husband's crime, would be well enough to pay him a visit. He also expected his brother-in-law and his counsel, Frank W. Angel. Up to 10 o'clook, however, he had no callers.

"I'm Tired; I Want Hest."

"I'm Tired; I Want Rest." As soon as he was awakened, Seely called for the morning newspapers, and while he was waiting for the regular prison breakfast, sead the news of his return. Seely took his dinner at the exclusive Warden's table. This privilege costs $15 extra a week. Seely didn't like the regular prison fare. He refused absolutely to discuss his case, and referred all inquiries to Lawyer Angel.

As he entered, Dinan struck him twice and ran out a side door and up Houston street.

Perkins followed and whistled for assistance. Roundsman Millmore responded. The two men caught Dinan after a short chase. Again he showed fight. This time he gave Millmore a savage kick in the stomach and the officer fainted.

Off he ran and again Perkins whistled for assistance. Roundsman McGuire and Officers Larue, Clancy, Morton and Hurley answered the whistle.

The six officers started in pursuit of Dinan, and finally, as they pressed him closely, he showed fight. Neither of the officers drew a club, but started in to overpower him. Dinan fought, bit and scratched. Finally Officers Perkins and Hurley threw him down and sat on him.

The prisoner was shackled hands and feet and put in an express wagon face downward. Three of the officers sat on Dinan and the express wagon was driven in triumph to the Charles street station.

When he appeared in court this morning Officer Perkins said he had black and blue spots all over his body as gentle reminders of the fight with Dinan.

Dinan was sent to the island for six months about a year ago for attempt.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 .- At the clos ing hearing on the question of currency revision, before the Committee on Banking and Currency of the House, President G. G. Williams of the Chemical sented the prevailing view among bankers, while President W. P. St. John, of the Mercantile Pank of New York, rep-

the Mercantile Pank of New York, represented the Eastern view favorable to silver.

President Williams urged that legal tender notes should be funded, $50,000,000 at a time, until they were eliminated from our fiscal system. Bonds at 3 per cent, should be received as security of a National bank notes on a basis of par for the bonds, the Government to have a first lien on the assets of the bank. These notes should be redeemable in New York City, and when issued in sufficient volume, and being readily convertible, would furnish adequate elasticity to the currency. The tax on the circulation of National banks should at a fonce be removed. The Baltimore plan, Mr. Williams said, would be safe in large cities, but might start many mushroem banks, and their failure would cause loss to the whole system. President St. John characterized the repeal of the Sherman act last year and the closing of the Indian mints to silver as "the world's blind experiment" in money, and declared that it was the dity of Congress to stop experimenting and get back to the Hamilton-Jefferson colnage system; to restore bimetallism independent of other nations. road.
